

NGI Tygervally Students are passionate about their campus.

British Accreditation Council (BAC)

We are very happy to announce that NewBridge Graduate Institute (NGI) is now officially accredited with the British Accreditation Council (BAC).

"This means that NGI students can now have the peace of mind that they are studying at an internationally recognised CHE- (Council of Education & Higher Learning), and BAC-accredited institution."

NGI is one of only 7 Institutions to have achieved a BAC accreditation.

Mandela Day

Honouring Nelson Mandela's legacy of service and sacrifice, the NGI Witbank team poured their hearts into preparing large portions of piping hot soup served in convenient take-away cups, along with freshly buttered bread. From construction workers to hungry individuals passing by and even curious truck drivers who pulled over with cheerful honks, the turnout was nothing short of inspiring.

The team spirit of the NGI students and staff could be felt throughout the town, with many laughs shared with visitors to the pop-up soup kitchen, amplified by the hooting of cars and trucks in support. The NGI pop- up initiative was proud to serve over 100 hungry individuals with a hot meal with a smile.

The SUSTAIN Project aligns with NGI's core values of empowering student leaders and uplifting the community by focusing on seven key principals: SERVICE by supporting communities, UNITY by building long lasting relationships, SUSTAINABILITY through environmental responsibility, TEACHING by educating for impact, ADVOCACY by promoting engagement, IMPACT through creating meaningful change, and NETWORKING by expanding our reach. These principals guide NGI's outreach efforts and ensure that each project contributes holistically to both institutional goals and community upliftment.
